Please note:

All "New" Squishable Product is Under Embargo

Squishable's bi-yearly catalogs are aimed at the trade for preview and ordering purposes only. There is a variable period per product where our new items are introduced to the trade, but are not yet for public consumption. We know you are excited about our brand new items; we are too! But please refrain from sharing new catalog items on your public-facing social media or preordering on your website until you have physically received the items or they are launched on Squishable.com as either a live sale or a preorder. We have a very distinct and controlled schedule we coordinate with all stores and our own website, and launches are often tied to very specific or seasonal timelines. Thank you so much for your support!
